

Killing in the name of justice ?

- Death penalty in the 21st century -

Wednesday, 18 October 2017

Musée d'Ethnographie de Genève (MEG)

Free entrance - English original version with French subtitles

18:30 Screening of the documentary

The Penalty is a feature documentary film following three people with extraordinary experiences of America's modern death penalty and goes behind the scenes of capital punishment's most recent headlines.

The film is directed by Will Francome (In Prison My Whole Life, Sundance 2008) and Mark Pizzey (Raindance Award Winner One For Ten).

Opening remarks by Ambassador Peter Sørensen, Head of the EU Delegation to the UN in Geneva and Isabelle Gattiker, Director of the International Film Festival and Forum on Human Rights (FIFDH)

20:00 Conversation (in English) with Will Francome Director of The Penalty and Allen Bohnert, Protagonist of The Penalty - Assistant Federal Public Defender, Office of the Federal Public Defender for the Southern District of Ohio

Moderated by Patrick Walder, Amnesty International

21:00 Cocktail

THE PENALTY

Three extraordinary people embark on journeys of recovery, discovery and rebellion and find themselves centre stage in the biggest capital punishment crisis in modern memory.